For City Government to be effective it takes a mayor who has the support and cooperation of a good City Council. The mayor cannot do it alone. Having spent the past six years as a Heber City Councilman I have worked in harmony with other city councilmen, department heads, and have worked well, and gained valuable experience from two past mayors. Becuase my experience is current, I will not have to spend valuable time learning about city policies and procedures. I know the needs of our city.
